4	1	find a friend and sit down and note four things you know already about this
5	2	have a drink and a think for 5 mins as to how you could make that search better
6	3	don't really think you need to know any more about that do you?
7	4	pop in the library and find a book or encyclopaedia about that subject
8	5	why not try searching for the opposite instead?
9	6	sing your search silently to yourself what answers does it make you think of?
10	7	get together in a group of three and predict two things that would come up if you searched for the "search" in google
11	8	write your search down on the classroom search board leave it for 20 minutes
12	9	book time with a teacher or assistant to talk about this instead of searching
13	10	get a small group together and make a collective large sheet of doodles on what you already know
14	11	do a painting of what your "search" might show if you made it
15	12	why not book a Skype call with an expert on the above but first write down the four questions that you would ask
